Dedication

To Miss Nora Engh,
who has carefully guided two generations of Vikings, we affectionately dedicate this book.

Superintendent O. T. Olsen

A man of principles, who practices more than he preaches, Mr. Olsen finds farming an interesting sideline.

The three grade teachers, all graduates of Moorhead State Teachers College, cooperated splendidly in both teaching and supervising grade school activities. They staged a very fine grade operetta and supervised an interesting and successful Christmas program. This spring they showed a very fine art exhibit.

Mrs. Charlotte Kunkel

Mrs. Kunkel will undoubtedly be happy when the school year comes to a close when she may relax from her duty as principal. Keeping all the high school students in order is no small task.

Mrs. O. T. Olsen, our senior English teacher, helped us to improve our speech while also taking care of her domestic duties. In addition to senior English, she teaches girls' physical education classes and some junior high subjects.

Class of 1949

The class of forty-nine is an unusually fine class, as may be expected in the estimation of the class members. Our record extends not only to scholastic achievements, but also through the various school activities. In basketball we have seven regular members on the team and their accomplishments are recorded elsewhere in this book. Several key members of the band belong to our class and if that be doubted, ask Mr. Wirth, band director. Many of our members sing in the high school chorus and to complete the activities, we might mention dramatics, the FFA and the FHA organizations. All the first squad cheerleaders were senior girls. And, last but not least, the forty-nine annual is the product of the seniors.

Way back in the fall of 1946, twenty-seven green freshmen walked through the doors of Climax High School to begin four long years of work and fun within its walls. Now, as our junior year lies behind us, I think we can all truthfully say that it was really more enjoyable than we would ever admit and the assignments weren't half as bad as we sometimes thought they were.

The past year especially has been one which I am sure we will never forget. Into it the students of the junior class have packed more and tougher studies, extra-curricular activities, and just plain horsing around than ever before. For instance, last fall we sold magazine subscriptions and made over $300. Then we presented our highly successful class play, "Little Women." When winter set in we played in or attended the basketball games and cheered just as madly as anyone else when the team battled itself all the way to the district finals before bowing to TRF. In the early spring we went out for declamation and did so well that three of us went to the district contest and one even as far as the state. Just as school was about to close for the summer, we threw a lavish banquet at the "Stork Club" in honor of the departing seniors.

This, you must admit, is a very impressive list

Standing—Eidsmoe, Treasurer; B. Burd, Secretary
Seated—Eia, Vice President; R. Boucher, President of achievements for a class which has now dwindled to a mere twenty-one, but it should not have been unexpected, because we are really much better than we modestly think we are.

Sophomores

The sophomores have participated in all the activities of the school. In basketball Leslie and Delano made the first team. Many others were on the second team. In band they also had its members. Many of this class were in the winning choir. In dramatics, in F.F.A., in F.H.A., some of the sophomores played an active part. We the class of 1951 put on a party for the class of 1952 in the fall of the year as was the usual custom. This spring the freshmen gave us a very interesting one in return.

Hemming, Pequeno, Nygaard, Merkins.

Koppang, Hagen, Rognlie, Meling.

The freshman class has the makings of an unusual class. They have the ability to make successful accomplishments — in basketball, band, choir, dramatics, and the other activities. In the one year they have been in the school they have made known the fact that they have talent. In basketball the boys have made progress, especially Rodger. We think he will make a very fine center if he has the will. A long article could be written on the class of 1952 but time will tell you of this class's greatness.

The basketball team this year had a very good season, winning 16 and losing 7. This was due to these men: Jerome Jevning, high scorer with 440 points to his credit in one year. He has been the best shot of the Vikings for the four years he has played on the first string. Howard Olson has a very fine record the last two years. Although he made only 83 points this year he did a very good job as rebound artist. He started in every game for two years. Dick Letnes comes second in the scoring with 123 points. He will be back next year to run that score up higher. Leslie Jevning had 67 to nose out two seniors by one point. These seniors are, guard Lowell Aker and forward Stanley Paulsrud. Lowell is noted for his swishing long shots. Stanley showed up well in the tournaments and almost took the honors from Jerome. Floyd Ball, the furious center, did a good job in helping get the rebounds. On the team were the two Einess brothers, Glendis and Delano. These two did an excellent job as subs. To round out the team were the last two seniors Dale Brokke and Virgil Swenson. Both showed improvement in their playing. We cannot forget the man who washed towels and did other odd jobs, Donovan Monson, manager.

Band

In addition to its concert at the Spring Music Festival, the band, under the direction of Mr. Wirth, has enlivened the basketball games with its music. Officers include Barbara Swalstad, president, Leslie Jevning, treasurer, and Howard Olson, secretary.

Fledgling Hornblowers

In 1949 the choir, under the direction of Mr. Stenshoel, won "A" ratings at the District and State-Regional Music Festivals singing William Billings' "Creation." Other performances included two concerts at Climax and others at Nielsville and Shelly. Officers include Jerome Jevning, president, Joan Estenson, librarian, Leslie Jevning, manager, Howard Olson, vice president, and Myles Stenshoel, director.

Future Farmers

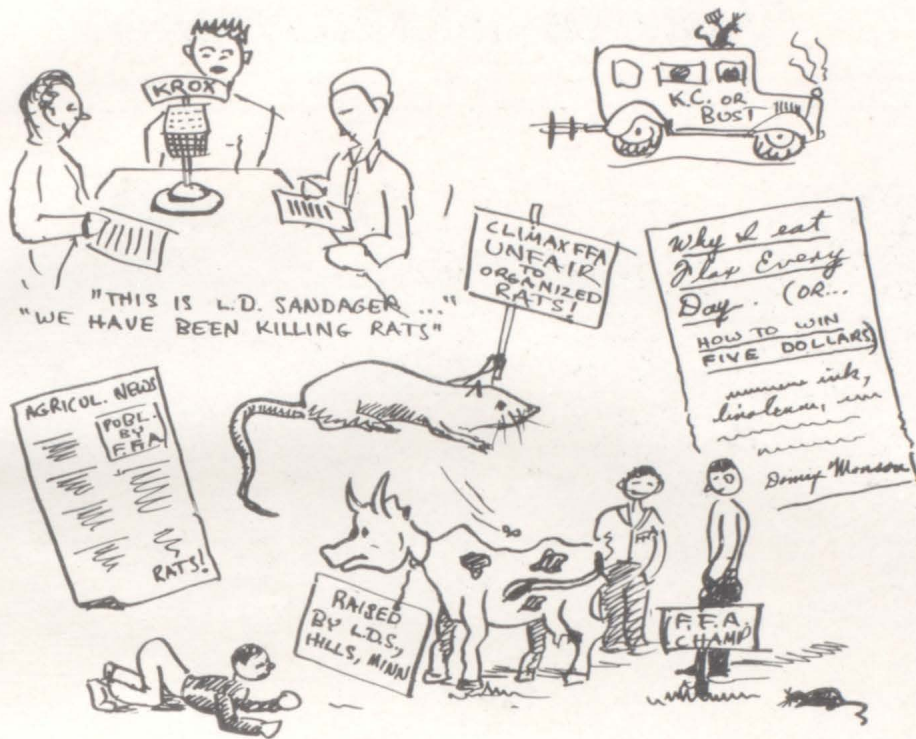

The Vocational Ag group under the leadership of Mr. Sandager has proved to be an active club. They sold pop at all the basketball games, and before the Christmas holidays they sold cards to the people in the surrounding communities. On April 15 the boys sponsored a successful father-and-son banquet. This summer the boys plan to take a vacation at one of the nearby lakes, accompanied by Mr. Sandager. The officers include Gerald Bruun, president; Delano Ostgaard, vice president; Virgil Swenson, secretary; Stanley Paulsrud, treasurer; Harley Bruun, reporter; Lowell Aker, sentinel, and Lee Sandager, advisor.

Among the extra class activities was the publication of a monthly farmers newspaper, The Agricultural News. It was distributed in the four communities of Climax, Nielsville, Shelly, and Eldred without cost. It contained valuable information about market trends, approved farm practices, and general agricultural news. As a class project the members of the Ag Department acquired the task of exterminating rats and mice from the local dump grounds, elevators, and warehouses.

As a direct help to farmers, the boys also accepted samples of soil and seed to be tested. Under the direction of Mr. Sandager, the members also wrote radio programs which they gave over station KROX in Crookston. In October a delegation went to Kansas City for the national F. F. A. convention. On this trip they saw model farms, visited manufacturing plants, and were honored by seeing President Truman's home in Independence.

F. F. A. judging teams competed in the annual Red River Valley Winter Shows. The members all wrote essays on "Flax," the best of which were entered in the Flax Essay Contest. High honors went to Donald Rogenes who received honorable mention in the state contest. He won the state contest last year. Other winners were Norris Anderson, Donovan Monson, and Dale Brokke. For scholarship and leadership Leslie Langhus received the DeKalb Award.

Future Homemakers

Organized last fall by Weltha Johnson, the Future Homemakers of America club has 65 members. To make money for the club they sold homemade fudge during the noon hour and ice cream bars at basketball games. The junior girls sponsored a waffle supper and the senior girls prepared the food for the Mother-Daughter banquet.

Last fall Joan Estenson, Ione Folstad, Kay Rognlie, Audrey Burke, Evangeline Rarick, Marilyn Letnes, and Miss Johnson attended a Future Homemakers convention in Fosston. Shirley Wollertson and Kay Rognlie accompanied by Miss Johnson were delegates to the state convention in Minneapolis.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was enjoyed by all in attendance. The theme for the banquet was "The Stork Club." Toastmaster Richard Letnes performed nobly and called upon various students to represent and imitate such well known people as George Mikan, Van Johnson, Ozzie Cowles and others. The speaker for the evening was our own superintendent, O. T. Olsen, who represented the person of Eisenhower. Our grateful appreciation is extended to the class of 1950 for the wonderful time we had.

YEARBOOKS

like the VIKING, symbolize proud achievement — provide a permanent record filled with priceless memories. We, of Holt's, take the same pride in our work. Every job, large or small, represents the achievement of craftsmen, who combine more than 300 years of experience in the graphic arts. Our success is measured by our satisfied customers.
